Joginder Nagar, Mandi, HP

Dhuni Chand & Sons is our RIP dealer, having turnover of around 7 cr. per year. Joginder Nagar, Bir, Narla, Arla, Urla, Gumma, Chatreed, etc. under their reach.

Mr. Paras Marvah, the owner, as the name suggests, is very fond of religious and spiritual books and have been using his every premise to showcase and sell motivational and thought provoking books too.

His soft, disciplined and religious personality has earned him good rapport in the market. Having a good network of fabricators and reliable understanding with them, his fabricators have been using square pipes much before it became mandatory under Roof Junction.

The third launching at dealers destination on 20th Feb 2013 for Roof Junction was organized at Dhuni Chand & Sons, Mandi.

The purpose to come up with Roof-Junction service was shared with attendees. The major factors which have been hovering around as pain areas of roofing by the Clients were discussed point to point.

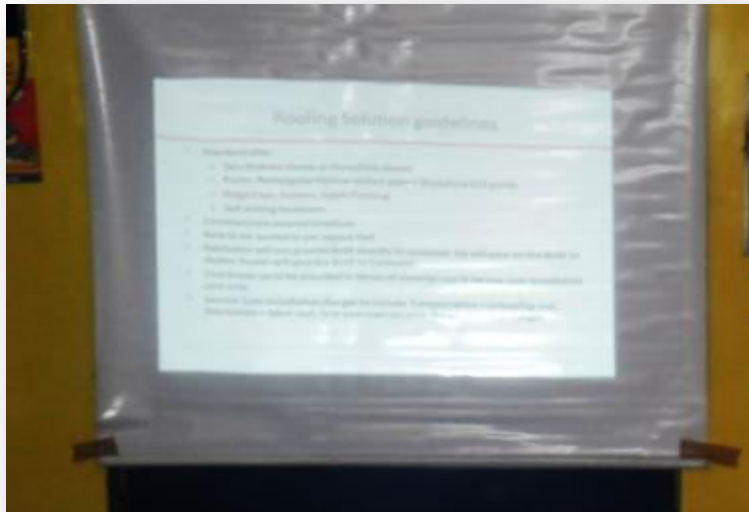

Safety measures, procurement of right material, locating right fabricators, technical weakness, bargaining factor, time bound completion, budget refrain, healthy life of roof, maintenance etc.etc. were thrown for open discussion to make all understand the reason and need for Roof-Junction.

Strong guidelines under which a project will comply as Roof-Junction and in the absence of which the same shall fall off, were made clear to fabricators and the Dealer

Ensuring a quality installation, providing the roof with consistent maintenance, and the early detection of problems through routine inspections can help maximize roof life. As the roof ages, the likelihood of problems increases. However, it is how these problems are addressed that will determine the fate and future of roof system. The very reason a free one year maintenance has been made a part of the Roof-Junction Service. This can be followed with AMC as such too as well.
